[Wall or Queen Instructions]

Jungle Magnolia Group-E

Checkerboard Magnolia:

This booklet includes the foundation papers and Templates, needed to complete the cutting and piecing for Group E. If you are working on the Wall size, all of the papers are included in this booklet. If you are working on the Queen, you will have an extra page of NP 1013 in your Queen expansion booklet, for a total of (2).

- Group E: Units E1 - E6

Overview for the Wall and Queen Version: The only difference between the Wall and Queen version is the number of foundation sheets and number of units you must make to complete the quilt. The wall version requires (4) block groups, while the Queen version requires (8) block groups. The cutting and piecing instructions are written for the Wall version. For the queen version, additional information is included on Page 6 and 7 for yardage and cutting. The piecing and assembly are the same, other than you will make (8) corners instead of (4).

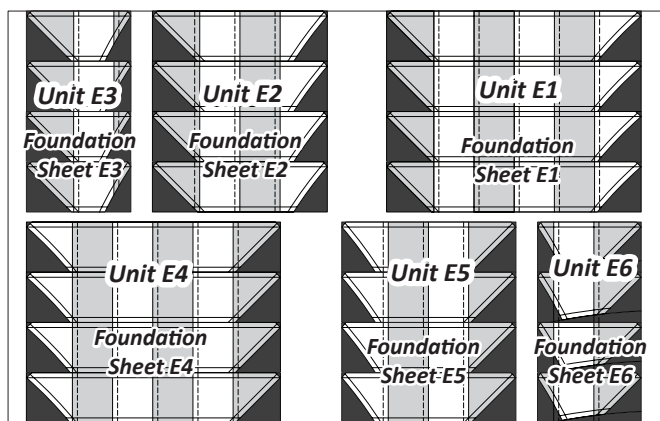

General Block Information: Foundation Units E1 through E6, are designed for foundation strip piecing. In this process multiple fabric strips are sewn vertical onto the reverse side of a foundation sheet. Once all the strips are securely sewn, the foundation sheets are cross-cut into smaller, uniform units using a rotary cutter. These smaller units, known as strip sets, are then sewn together to form a block group.

Newsprint: The newsprint included in your instruction package contains the templates needed for constructing the checkerboard blocks and is shown to the right. ALT T-Templates E-4 & E-5 are also provided for those who prefer a traditional, not-pieced option. For detailed guidance on cutting the Foundation Papers, Templates, and Template Layout Sheets (TLS), refer to the appropriate sections of the Introduction Booklet under "Foundation Papers and Templates."

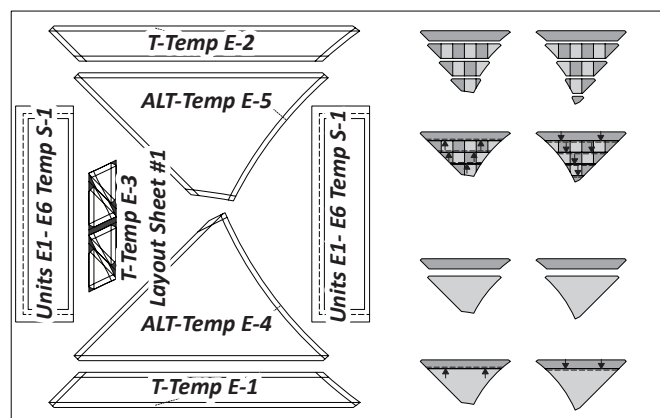

Once the foundation sheets for Units E1 through E6 are cut out, place them into their assigned bags (see the list below). The Templates and Template Layout Sheets should also be cut out, arranged in numerical order, and stored temporarily in a bag labeled "Group E Templates."

During the cutting process, the templates are paired with their corresponding fabric numbers. After cutting each fabric, place the templates and fabric pieces into their assigned bags along with the foundation papers.

Organization Using Ziploc Bags: To keep your fabrics, templates, and papers organized, prepare four (4) large Ziploc bags. Label the bags as shown in the next column.
